A GOOD IDEA NEVER DIES

"You can't keep a good man down", and so too a good idea never dies—like truth, crushed to the ground, it will rise again. The good idea in this case is a railroad between the upper glades and the east coast.

The Lake Worth Herald prints each week, under the heading "Twenty-Five Years Ago," excerpts from issues of the paper of dates a quarter of a century in the past. Last week there was this:

"Announcement was made from its Broadway offices that the Florida East Coast Railway interests were ready to build a railroad westward from West Palm Beach to connect with the Kissimmee valley line at Okechobee City. The war has checked its building, which was expected to get under way after the first of the year."

That was seen, twenty-five years ago, to be a good idea. The outbreak of World War I wasn't the only reason, however, why the idea, was not executed—lethargy, settled on the management on the death of Henry M. Flagler and they dwindled. Tom Campbell, the late H. G. Geer and other progressive men of West Palm Beach tried to promote a cross-state railroad—they even drove a golden spike, but the undertaking was too big for them. The Mr. Moore who founded Moore Haven tored with the idea. The late Charles Ruygles, the county engineer, who built old Dixie Highway, and Phil Y. Cason made a survey between their cabbage patch at Bitta and West Palm Beach. George F. Bessel and Jeter M. Burdette tried to revive F. E. C.'s interest but as much as they were able to do was to get a logging road built westward from Kelsey City. The idea was taken up again, and a group of West Palm Beach men put up a thousand dollars each and hired a promoter from New Orleans and to show him the Lake Okechobee region they got a boat at Canal Point and went across to Sand Point where Captain and Mrs. J. J. O'Brien were called. The enthusiasm was exhausted, however, in the fall of pushing the boat through water too long to float it, in order to get to Sand Point. Then everyone went to North Carolina for a summer vacation and when they got back the idea had been forgotten.

But the seed had been planted, and Warfield of the Seaboard Air Line built to the east coast and down to Miami just as the real estate boom was a bust.

It started with World War I; it is revived with World War II. Every time the nation gets into a war and help is needed for victory, eyes turn to the Florida Everglades. So the Florida East Coast is planned again a short cut between the east coast and the Everglades, this time on a route between Port Mayaca, which is ten miles north of Canal Point, and Fort Pierce. Twenty-five years ago the big idea was sugar development; that has been accomplished. Now the big idea is ramble development; that is to be accomplished. The ships on the seven seas need ropes, and the Everglades is looked to as a source of material, and the Everglades have never failed.

CANAL POINT BAPTIST CHURCH NOTES

When one looks back through the pages of history and into the Bible stories, a wonderful feeling of security and reverence sweeps one's soul. It is amazing how God has constantly tried to reconcile His children into Himself. Great prophets have risen up in all ages, inspired of God, to lead evil generations from destructive sin. Such a one was Isaiah. His commission was by no means an easy one. Israel was wandering far from the Lord and God sent a man to call them back to His love and faith. Great trials, persecutions, and pride had flooded the souls of the people—they needed a new life. . . . The same elements of evil are darkening a people's heart today and unless we turn from our evil way we shall be destroyed. It is an awful thing to fall into the hand of God. His great "woes" ring out upon a afflicted people today even as long ago. Jesus Hine in the fifth chapter of Isaiah and give heed especially to the twentieth verse; this is not confusing prophecy of a one was Isaiah. Marked men read it for what it reads, take it for what it reads, and turn from the life of sin. . . . Trust your steps Sunday morning to God's house. If you have no other church affiliation come to the Canal Point Baptist Church and hear the sermon.

Should a person be required to pay tribute to a union overlord for the "Right to Work"?

Should a person be required to join a union against his or her will in order to secure employment?

Young Opera Star Leans to Pinafores and War Bonds

The young American concert-opera star, Marjory Hess, has her victory garden rambling over this colorful pinafore apron. It is a life saver for your party-dresses, and fun to make, even for a beginner. Miss Hess suggests making several aprons because they, with a minimum of time and effort, you will save enough money to buy extra War Bonds and stamps. Suitable patterns may be obtained at your local pattern store.

"Woe Upon Evil" . . . 11:00 o'clock

At the evening service, 8:00 o'clock, the pastor shall speak on "Leading a People to Trust God." If you cannot come to this service, thoughtfully and prayerfully read chapter 29-32 of II Chronicles; if you can come, read it anyway come prepared for a greater blessing. The story concerning the reign of Hezekiah is one of the most fascinating stories you will ever read . . . and if it doesn't challenge you to greater devotion to God, lay your Bible aside, pray, then remaining in prayer read it again. Come out Sunday evening, not because I say so, but because that's where a people belong! America began with Holy altars—People of Canal Point, don't throw away a Nation's Foundation!

Eastern Star Has First Fall Meet

Members of the Pahokee Chapter 184, Order of Eastern Star, held their first meeting of the season in the Masonic Temple last Thursday night with J. W. Barrett, worthy patron, presiding at the business.

Mrs. Vena Mae Schrader presented the obligation night program. The group voted to invite the Belle Glade OES Chapter to meet jointly on Oct. 22 for a special memorial service to be held in the Masonic Temple at 8 p.m. Friends of Chapter members will be invited to attend this service. A letter was read from OES Chapter 59, Fort Lauderdale, inviting local members to a special meeting honoring a high OES official there on Oct. 26.

Plans were made for an OES study course for officers to be completed here in the near future by Mrs. Dorothy Graham, grand instructor of District 10.

MAN POWER

...And of all the South's great assets none is of more importance than its native born population.

Intelligent, reasonable and quick to learn, southern workers have made invaluable contributions to the industrial development and general economic advancement of the area. Lower living costs due to mild climate, plus willing workers gives the South basic advantages in manpower. The Seaboard Railway salutes its fellow workers of the South. The Seaboard, itself a vital factor in the development of the area, is planning and working with communities served by its line for a more prosperous Southland. Seaboard Railway, Norfolk 10, Va.

Cinematic Chatter

By Malcolm Miller

Sunday-Monday at the Prince Theatre will be a great day for the lovers of good music and fine dancing. On those days lovely Ann Miller, Larry Parks, Joe Bonomo and Bob Hynce play. This is a musical comedy with a touch of love interest. It depicts the rookie joining the army, his trials and tribulations as he goes through basic training, with plenty of humor, dancing by Ann Miller, (who, to my notion, is one of the world's greatest tap dancers), and jammed with a great portion of "This is the Army," that made such a huge success both on the stage and in the movies. Tuesday-Wednesday we have a double-header, with the first picture up "The Case of the Cat Foller" with Gene Kravitz. "People." You remember the giga-

l of this series, called "Cat People." This one carries the idea along a little further. Simon Simone is the feminine start with Kent Smith as her leading man. Balance of the cast are Jane Randolph, Julia Dean, Ann Carter and Elizabeth Russell. The second picture up I know you'll like. This one is "Charlie Chan in the Secret Service," and it stars the ever popular Sidney Toler with Gene Kravitz. Thursday-Friday also features a double feature. First one up is "Hour Before Dawn." This one turned out to be a screen hit; popular demand of the many Army fans who saw and never forgot this picture. I'm sure you'll like it. Saturday brings Gene Autry and Smiley Burnette in a remake under the title "Idaho." This is one of the best pictures that is being turned out by the studio, and this turned to the screen by popular demand of the many Army fans who saw and never forgot this picture. I'm sure you'll like it. Signing off, it looks like a great cinema week for everyone. See you at the movies—Mal.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"The war stories I like best, Judge, are the ones by the special writers overseas who live right with our troops. They give us a better idea of how our men react to things going on over there and back here at home."

"I agree with you, Sam. I never miss one of those stories in the papers or magazines. And there's one thing those writers seem to agree on no matter where they are stationed with our men...and that is that the men who have left their homes and families to go away and fight this war don't want to come back and find that prohibition has been put over on them while they were away...either nationally or locally. They have heard about the attempts being made and they resent it bitterly."

"I agree with them, Judge, even though I don't happen to drink myself. Furthermore, I don't think it's fair for us at home to be making any major changes while 10,000,000 of our fighting men are away and have no chance to express their opinions."

Meet our COMMISSION AGENT!

He's one of the finest and one upon whom we set great store in these strenuous days of wartime transportation. He's a one-man team, this fellow—a bus line complete in himself... ticket agent, dispatcher, baggage man, traffic manager, information center, all in one. His days are pretty lively. Naturally he is a very important man to Florida Motor Lines, and to those who must travel.

Because he knows a lot of people, our agent is respected by a lot of people. His knowledge of intercity transportation problems and travel service is truly amazing... and yours for the simple asking. That's why he is a key man in ours and every other bus line operation—why he's so well worth knowing by all who travel. Meet him—and let him advise you regarding any bus trip you plan.

MEN'S BIBLE CLASS

The Men's Fellowship Bible Class continues to grow, with the addition of two last Sunday, increasing the enrollment to 106. Fifty-seven were in attendance. Rev. Frank Morgan, conducting revival services at the Baptist Church, Pahokee, will be the guest speaker at the class this Sunday. The last time Mr. Morgan addressed the class, it was in its infancy, with some 19 in attendance. The objective for this Sunday is 75. It is hoped that each member will make a special effort to be present, with a friend. The quartet will sing two numbers with G. Sanders at the piano. The "sing-along" under the leadership of Rep Cowart will again feature. The teacher, Rev. C. A. Meyer, extends a most heartfelt invitation to all visitors, especially service men, to come to the class Sunday at 9:45. Lions Club building.

Though the Southern Bell Telephone Company is now doing the largest volume of business in its history its earnings are at the lowest rate they have been in many years. This condition has been brought about by the fact that for a number of years the cost of operating the business has increased at a greater rate than have revenues. And while operating costs have been steadily rising, rates charged for telephone service have been reduced. Users of long distance service alone are saving millions of dollars annually as a result of the rate reductions made during the past several years. Though operating costs have greatly increased, and telephone earnings are less, telephone users are getting more service for less money now than ever before.
